

Egypt in Context: Challenges and Opportunities for Funders
September 19, 2013

Mirjam van Dorssen has been working with Oxfam Novib since 2003, supporting human rights, women's rights and development organizations in the Middle East. As program officer, she worked on Oxfam Novib's programs in the Middle East and Maghreb with partners in the OPTI, Lebanon, Morocco and Egypt. Since July 2011 her focus has been on Egypt as Oxfam Country Director.

Before joining Oxfam Novib, Mirjam spent two years in the Egyptian province of Fayoum where she advised on capacity building for health education as part of a Primary Health Care development project. Her preceding professional experience is mostly related to the Israeli-Palestinian conflict: doing research for Defense for Children in East Jerusalem, fundraising for American Near East Refugee Aid in Washington DC and coordinating an advocacy project on Middle East peace in the Netherlands.

She studied Cultural Anthropology at the University of Amsterdam.
