Liliane da Costa Reis, Consultant and author of the report, “Evaluating Social Change: A Funder-Social Movement Dialogue”

Liliane da Costa Reis graduated in Social Sciences and has a Masters Degree in Management. Following a 19-year experience in various capacities at a non-profit organization (AFS Intercultural Programs), Liliane became a consultant in Management for non-governmental organizations in Brazil. For the past 17 years, she has been extensively involved in strategic planning, project design, monitoring and evaluation, and design of project indicators for various organizations. Her interest in broadening the understanding of NGO management has directed her to further her studies in Political Science, with a focus on Gramsci’s writings. Since 2002, Liliane is part of the team that coordinates Expo Brasil Desenvolvimento Local, annual event on local development (www.expobrasil.org).
