

Foundation Maps: Human Rights

Key Search Tips

- This map reflects the totality of each funder's grantmaking and does not remove re-granted dollars. Therefore, this tool should not be used to generate funding totals for specific rights issues, populations, or geographies. If you are interested in exact funding totals, please consult our research at <http://humanrights.foundationcenter.org>. If you still have questions regarding funding totals, contact Anna Koob at aak@foundationcenter.org.
- To see human rights grants received within a specific country, type that country into the "location" bar.
- To search for grants made at the intersection of fields, select "AND subject criteria" under "more filters" when searching. E.g. to search grants for women's resource rights, click "environmental and resource rights" and "women" and the "AND subject criteria" checkbox.
- To see all grants made by a specific grantmaker, click on "more filters" and enter the first few letters of a grantmaker name into the "Organization Name" search field and select the grantmaker from the list. You can also search for a specific recipient by using the "Organization Name" field.
- You can search within only the IHRFG, Ariadne, and INWF member universe or within the entire universe of funders who made at least one human rights grant. To search only the grants made by funders in these networks, go to "My Tags" and select "IHRFG, Ariadne, and INWF members."
- To search for an issue area not included within the human rights subject list, use the "keyword filter" in "More Filters."
