

Dr. Magda Adly is a physician specialized in anesthesia and perioperative medicine. She is a co-founding member and the Director of El Nadim Centre for Psychological Management and Rehabilitation of Victims of Violence, an Egyptian NGO that assists victims of torture and violence through research, training, counseling and raising public awareness. Because of her work in support of victims of torture and GBV in Egypt and in the Arab region, Dr. Adly has been subjected to arbitrary detention, attacks and harassment under Sadat and Mubarak regimes, and she is still under constant surveillance. Dr. Adly brings extensive expertise in conducting psychosocial support sessions and trainings to victims of violence and human rights defenders as well as in civil society activism.
