

PROMOTING HUMAN RIGHTS IN GAZA: THE ROLE OF HUMAN RIGHTS FUNDERS

Thursday, December 6, 2012

Organized by the Euro-Mediterranean Foundation of Support to Human Rights Defenders and the Urgent Action Fund

BIOGRAPHIES OF SPEAKERS

Mahmoud Abu-Rahma

International Relations Director

Al Mezan Center for Human Rights (Gaza)

Mahmoud Abu-Rahma is currently based at the University of York's Centre for Applied Human Rights doing a research fellowship, and working full-time as Director of Communications with the Gaza-based Al Mezan Centre for Human Rights, with which he has been working since 2001. Abu-Rahma also sits on the Executive Committee of the Euro-Mediterranean Human Rights network. He holds a Masters' degree in the Theory and Practice of Human Rights from the University of Essex, United Kingdom.

Linda Öhman

Field Representative, Jerusalem Office

Kvinna till Kvinna

Linda Öhman is currently the Kvinna till Kvinna (KtK) Foundation Field Representative for the Israel and Palestine programme, based in Jerusalem. She has been living and working in Jerusalem since 2010, funding and promoting women's rights. Prior to joining KtK, Linda worked as a human rights officer for the OSCE both based in Kosovo and Warsaw. In her last position, in Warsaw, she was the manager of a programme called Human Rights, Women and Security. As such, she worked on gender and security sector reform, as well as examining the role of women's rights and gender in early warning systems.